

NEW RECORDS FOR THE VASCULAR FLORA OF WYOMING AND MONTANA

Robert W. Lichvar<sup>1</sup>, Robert D. Dorn<sup>2</sup>, and Erwin F. Evert<sup>3</sup>

ABSTRACT.— Apparent first state records of 11 taxa for Wyoming and one taxon for Montana are listed. A range extension is noted for the genus Shoshonea.

Recent field work from 1980 and 1982 has added one additional record to the flora of Montana and 11 additional records for Wyoming. The recently described genus and species Shoshonea pulvinata Evert and Constance, thought to have been a highly restricted endemic, is reported here well outside its previously known range.

APIACEAE

Shoshonea pulvinata Evert and Constance, WY, Fremont Co., T6N R5E S34, 2286 m (7500 ft), calcareous ridge, 26 July 1982, R. Lichvar 5382 RM.

This recently described genus and species by Evert and Constance (1982) was known only from a restricted range near Cody, Wyoming. This collection, Lichvar 5382, is a distance of 55.8 km (90 mi) southeast of the Cody sites.

This species was discussed by Barneby (1964) as possibly being collected in Wyoming by R. Rollins, no. 177, in 1932. This specimen was distributed by RM as Hedysarum sp. The authors were unable to relocate this specimen at RM; it is presumed filed under an Astragalus. Barneby felt that this specimen was probably mislabeled. These collections confirm its existence in Wyoming.
